Summit Chalet adds finished lower levels, bolsters value

Renowned custom homebuilder, Summit Chalet, has just announced that several of its popular Interlocken luxury lifestyle homes in Castle Pines Village now have the added value and casual elegance of finished lower levels. "Buyers appreciate the level of custom detail and exceptional finish that the lower level adds as well as that it matches seamlessly with the rest of the home," says sales counselor Wanda Ford of Castle Pines Village Realty.

Built by award-winning local custom homebuilder, Summit Chalet, the Interlocken European Peak Series collection features seven luxury lifestyle home designs priced from $1,029,000 to $1,240,000. The neighborhood is in Castle Pines Village, metro Denver's premier gated residential golf course community, just north of Castle Rock. The European Peak Series luxury lifestyle homes feature large kitchens with center islands, slab granite counters, stainless steel appliances, breakfast nooks, walk-in pantries, and hardwood floors. The homes range from 4,008 to 5,666 square feet with several models boasting five bedrooms.

Other special touches include front entry courtyards, arched entry doors, built-in bookcases, stained woodwork, dining rooms with coffered ceilings, and main-floor laundries with adjacent mudrooms. All homes are professionally landscaped and some include exterior fireplaces and waterfalls. "Visitors are finding that these homes in the trees are just the right combination of uncompromising custom elegance and a nearly maintenance-free lifestyle that allows them to thoroughly enjoy their home, not focus on its upkeep," adds Ford. Buyers can choose to design and build a custom European Peak Series luxury lifestyle home from scratch on one of just 12 remaining homesites of the original 27, or for those with a quicker time frame several are underway or ready now.
